News at the Santa Barbara Airport

The Airline Terminal Project at the Santa Barbara Airport is taking off! A new, two-story, sixty-thousand square foot terminal building is expected to open in 2012. But there will be some temporary changes along the way. Short-term parking was recently relocated to what used to be the western section of the Long Term Parking Lot. The old short-term lot is being converted to the construction staging site for the new Airline Terminal. Each parking lot now has automated payment for quick and easy exiting. Since there are fewer long term parking spaces at the terminal, travelers have the option of going directly to Long Term Parking Lot 2 off Hollister Avenue near Fairview and taking the complimentary shuttle service to the terminal. This shuttle runs every 8 to 10 minutes and drops travelers off at the curb. Other changes include:

- Reconfiguration of the Terminal loop road
- Relocation of Baggage Claim A to the north side
- New pedestrian access between Terminal and Rental Car
- Reconstruction of west Aircraft Ramp
- Relocation of Rental Car Parking area to the west
- Soil preparation for Terminal Foundation
